

Shemiah Derrick

Shemiah Derrick is a Licensed Relationship Therapist and Certified Addictions Counselor who teaches individuals and couples how to communicate and create exciting relationships. With her straightforward and down-to-earth approach, Shemiah provides clients the introspect and tools needed to cultivate communicative relationships, build strong, happy marriages and healthy lifestyles. Shemiah is the founder, owner and lead clinical supervisor of Profound Peace Psychotherapy Collective, a private practice that provides individual, couples, and family therapy in Illinois & Wisconsin. Acknowledged as one of the best couples therapists in Chicago by Marriage.com, she is also the founder of Relationships Redefined, a program that empowers couples with communication tools and tips to complement ever-changing relationships and life's challenges. Her educational background includes an M.A. in Clinical Psychology and Paralegal Certification from Roosevelt University as well as in-progress certification in Gottman Method Couples Therapy from the world renowned Gottman Institute. Shemiah lives in Chicago with her husband.